General instructions

On race day –

- Each runner shall carry his/her chest number prominently and put on the race bracelet with the race emergency phone number printed it.
- Signs along the route will lead the runners throughout the race.
- Marshals at the starting points and representatives at critical points will provide solutions to problem upon necessity.
- From sunset to sunrise, the runners must use a flickering red light on the back, as well as a luminous vest and a head-mounted flashlight.
- At night, be cautious and run responsibly (please note that the night run is relatively long and therefore, part of the time the runners are tired and the vision is poor).
- It is absolutely prohibited to accompany runners, whether by running or cycling. A runner caught with another person accompanying him/her will be disqualified (except in areas close to the finish where it is permitted).

Highlights – 50 km and 80 km races –

1. Mandatory equipment will be checked prior to the start and during the competition. An athlete that will not have all the required equipment at any time will be disqualified immediately.
2. At night, until 5:30 am, each athlete must run with a head-mounted or regular flashlight turned on.
3. Throughout the route, each athlete must carry his chest number prominently.
4. A runner, who fails to reach one of the stations until the cut-off time, will not be able to continue the competition and the chest number will be taken from him.
5. We are committed to preserving the nature and the area in which we run and therefore, a runner caught throwing trash on the trails will be subject to penalties as specified.
6. Along the route, there will be aid stations and water stations. Receiving assistance outside these stations by any third party is prohibited and will be subject to penalties as specified.
7. In case of retirement, except for cases of injury, a runner should reach the nearest station and inform the station staff regarding retirement and hand over the chest number. Race management will make sure to transport the runners, who decided to retire, to the finishing line. (Please note that the time of transportation to the finishing line may change depending on shuttle availability and race management's considerations). In case of injury that does not allow to continue the race, contact the race center immediately and follow the instructions.

Penalties –

Being accompanied outside the finish area	Disqualification
Avoiding helping a runner in distress	One hour of waiting
Throwing trash on the trail	One hour of waiting

Categories of 21 km, 50 km and 80 km races –

Individuals – running the entire distance in women and men's races (minimum 6 runners per category):

- Men/Women – up to 39
- Men/Women – 40 and older
- Age is calculated by year.
- In case of lack of a minimum amount in a category, in each race the general places only will be announced.

Race start –

- 80 km and 50 km races will start at the start/finish area at the Jerusalem Biblical Zoo
- 21 km race will start in bar giora. An hour and a half before the start, a shuttle will depart from the Jerusalem Biblical Zoo to the start area.
- 21 km race will start in Yad Kennedy. An hour and a half before the start, a shuttle will depart from the Jerusalem Biblical Zoo to the start area.

Cut-off –

80 km race – 16:00 hours

50 km race – 9:30 hours

Runners' safety

- Safety – during the race the roads will not be closed (in the 80 km race, there are 4 locations where crossing the road is required), therefore runner must be careful. Pay attention to the traffic upon crossing the road, the race goes through marked trails and signs along the way will guide the runners.
- Since the race mainly takes place at night, each runner must run with a flickering flashlight, either head-mounted or regular. A runner who will fail to comply with these instructions may be disqualified.
- Keep quiet while running in populated areas.

- Navigation errors – the route is marked in compliance with the highest international standard to prevent navigation errors. In case of such an error, a runner must return to the last point where the route is marked and continue from there.

Schedule and stations' closing hours

- Race portfolio, which will be published before the race, will include information about the refreshment stations' opening and closing hours according to various races.
- 80 km race start time – 10:30 pm, December 6, 2018
- 50 km race start time – 3:30 am, December 7, 2018
- 21 km race start time – 7:00 am, December 7, 2018
- 12 km race start time – 8:00 pm, December 7, 2018
- Closing ceremony will be held at 11:00 am at the finish area in the Jerusalem Biblical Zoo

General changes and unplanned changes in the route and during the race

- Race manager may change the route based on his decision due to unexpected and unknown factors, which may interfere with the race or endanger the runners or race organizers.
- Race manager may change the time the races will start, as well as the stations' closing hours and the time the race ends due to unexpected and unknown factors, which may interfere with the race or endanger the runners or race organizers.
- Changes in these regulations may apply in accordance with organizers' considerations. The changes will be updated on the race home page.
- Race organizers may inform regarding cancellation or postponement of the race without prior notice, but within a reasonable time before the race, in case the number of registered runners will not reach the minimum amount determined in order for the race to take place.

Complaints/Appeals

- Complaints regarding a violation of race rules, as well as appeals or objections regarding results, should be submitted to the Organizing Committee representatives at the finishing point only, and in any case, not later than one hour after crossing the finishing line.

We wish you health and best of luck in the race!
